Q: When I try to go on a website, it doesn't work.

Try This!

First, make sure you typed in the right URL correctly..

If your web browser isn't letting you go on ESPN, you will have to type in a username and password. The username is owls1 and the password is, owenowls. At the top of your chromebook, close the tab of the website you were going onto by pressing the "x" button. Go back on your website and it should start running again.

No!

Shut down your chromebook. Turn it back on again, and press the reload button.

No!

Get help from Mrs.McHale or another teacher.

Yes!

Your website should start running again!
